

Andre F. Ducote was born in Lafayette, Louisiana, but raised in Jackson, Mississippi. Mr. Ducote attended St. Richard's Elementary School and St. Joseph High School, both in Jackson, Mississippi, before moving to Tulsa, Oklahoma. In 1987, Mr. Ducote completed his primary education at Bishop Kelley High School in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He then returned to Mississippi to attend the University of Mississippi. At the University of Mississippi, Mr. Ducote obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree with emphases in History and English in 1992. He obtained his Juris Doctorate from the University Of Mississippi School Of Law in 1995.

Mr. Ducote was admitted to the Mississippi Bar Association in October of 1995. He is licensed to practice before all Mississippi state and federal courts. He began his practice in Holly Springs, Mississippi. After short stays in both Holly Springs, Mississippi and Southaven, Mississippi, Mr. Ducote moved his practice to Jackson, Mississippi in 1996. In 2010 he joined Morgan & Morgan, PLLC, in Jackson, Mississippi as a member of firm's workers' compensation department representing injured workers.